Urban Findings is an annual collaborative project. The title of this project is taken literally from the concept of gathering or putting together fragments of an urban setting. The project is collaborative in nature inviting artists to play; and this maps artists across various artist hubs and between cities. The artists in this project explore a number of varying subject matters and this project simply gathers contemporary collective thinking.

Collaborators this year include 28Guild, Lizamore and Associates and Collective Untitled.

This is an outstanding collection of works, the styles of these artists all compliment each other in a profound and striking way; all these artworks come together as a contemporary collective, allowing the exhibition to take on a life of its own with a powerful and cohesive narrative.
